ANOTHER LESSON IN GOVINT CONTROLS...

It would appear by now that these United States and its citizens are to have it dawn on 'em that Govmint price controls and allocations & regulation are a pie in the sky kind of thing that just don't work since they always get things messed up and create more problems than they cure. Shortages always develop, and crooks always prosper and the average consumer gets it in the neck, sooner or later.

Producers ain't gonna produce if controls cause 'em to lose money or take away their rights in the market place. While it would seem almost impossible to find any thing good in the current & recent hard winter weather, it may have awakened some of the wind jammers in Congress and according to today's papers it may have even created an awareness in Jimmy Carter that all is not well with

USDA Issues Recommended Decision On Beef Research And Information Order

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced that evidence received at a public hearing justifies proposing a nationally coordinated research and information order for beef.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service set a Feb. 24, 1977 deadline for filing written exceptions to its recommended decision on the beef research and information order. After that date, a final decision will be made. If the final decision is favorable, beef producers will vote on the proposed program in a national referendum.

Under the recommended order, a Beef Board composed of producers would have the power to collect assessments on the sales of cattle and to use the funds for research, production, and consumer information, and pro-

Fed Cattle Higher Monday At Major Markets, Hogs Sell Off

Receipts of slaughter cattle were a little lighter around the terminal markets on Monday and prices were generally strong to unevenly higher. Hog receipts were about 10,000 above a week ago and lower prices prevailed. Price trends, quotations on choice and prime steers and heifers and the mixed good and choice fed cattle, and U.S. 1-3 hogs scaling mostly 200-270 pounds included:

Omaha fed cattle 50-75c higher, steers 37.50-39.25 and 37.00-37.75; heifers 36.25-38.00 and 36.50-38.50. Hogs 26c higher early, but closed slow and weaker, at 39.00-42.25. Sioux City steers firm, heifers steady to 60c higher. Steers 37.50-38.75 and 36.50-37.50; heifers 36.75-37.50 and 36.00-38.00. Hogs fully 75c lower at 39.00-41.75.

Kansas City, Jan. 21 (USDA) — National Feeder Cattle and Calf Summary. Approximately 157,000 this week, 161,000 last week, 188,000 last year. controls and allocations of gas & oil as a particular case in point. It is reported that Jimmy Carter may seek to decontrol gas to keep folks from sufferin' and usin' their jobs due to th' shortages.

We can't find much fault with gas producers who don't want to sell or spend billions of dollars drillin' for more gas and oil, when their product is taken away from 'em at unreal prices and given to consumers at like-wise unreal prices.

We saw somewhere th' other day where th' Joint Council on Economic Education surveyed 20,000 high schoolers and discovered more than half of 'em did not know th' difference between collectivism & free enterprise. In fact most of th' kids did not even know th' United States economy is based on what we smilingly refer to as Free Enterprise. This out not to be surprisin' since when our educational system don't teach 'em to read, write or figger with any degree of skill, they can't be expected to understand economics. Someone referred to th' American people as Functional Economie illiterates. Bein' Functional Economic illiterates makes th' rank & file citizens easy prey for domestic grease in politics and special interest groups. P. T. Barnum once said there was a sucker born every minute, and these people who take advantage of th' economic ignorance that abounds in this country and blame one segment of bizness or another for th' problems in energy, food or other stuph instead of seriously tacklin' the Situation we are in, should be shook up at th' conditions in th' energy field, th' agricultural & livestock fields, and other things that are out of joint.

Perhaps this hard winter and th' losses & sufferin' it has caused will convince th' Burrocrats and Politicians that OPEC really has our country by th' throat and can strangle our economy when they feel in th' mood. Maybe this crisis will convince some of th' blow hards it is time to git movin' to git us outta this trap as Free Enterprise. This out not to be surprisin' since when our educational system don't teach 'em to read, write or figger with any degree of skill, they can't be expected to understand economics. "Proper care of your animals just makes good sense — especially during these tight times!"

Cattle on lush green oat and wheat pastures don't need a protein supplement, but they do need help to make best use of the grazing they get.

Cold wet pastures are often a source of foot rot and soft tissue lumpy jaw. Wendland's Pasture-Guard Pellets, medicated with EDDI, guard against these problems. Magnesium deficiency causes grass tetany. Wendland's Pasture-Guard Pellets contain over 2% magnesium to help guard against this problem. And, they contain roughage to slow down feed passage and improve digestibility. This and a blend of vitamins, minerals and nutrients will help prevent bloat under the worst pasture conditions. See your Wendland's Feed Dealer soon and guard your profits with Pasture-Guard!

motion to improve, maintain, and develop markets for cattle, beef, and beef products. Producers not wishing to participate in the program may have their assessment refunded by the board.

Such a program is authorized by the Beef Research and Information Act of May, 1970. USDA's recommended decision is based on evidence received at public hearing sessions held in Dallas, Tex.; Denver, Colo.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Atlanta, Ga.; San Francisco, Calif.; and Des Moines, Iowa.

Until Feb. 24, 1977, anyone interested can file exceptions to the recommended order and a brief in support of their exceptions. Five copies of exceptions should be submitted to the Hearing Clerk, Room 112-A, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, where they will be available for public inspection.

The recommended decision is scheduled to be published in the 25, 1977 Federal Register. Single copies of the recommended decision can also be obtained from the Hearing Clerk's office.

L. M. Haupt's Shorthorn Career Started With Heifer In 1920

College Station, Texas—Lewis M. Haupt, Jr., president of the Texas Shorthorn Assn., started his career breeding Shorthorns with a heifer given to him by his father in 1920. Haupt still has descendants of that heifer in his Shorthorn herd today.

In 1925, Haupt's father, L. M. Haupt, Sr., bought a small herd of Shorthorns and joined him in the business giving it the name L. M. Haupt & Son. Today the son in the outfit is L. M. Haupt III, a graduate of Rice University and now a geophysicist living in Houston, but who also has interest in the Shorthorn cattle.

"Things have changed a little bit in the cattle business since the 1920's, but I've always tried to keep my cattle 'kinda middle of the road', neither extremely little or big—the kind that can go into any herd and do a good job," he said.

Much of the Haupt breeding has been done with bulls obtained from the famous Aberfeldy Farms owned by Rayford Gardhouse, in Canada, because when he started there were only two Shorthorn bloodlines available in Texas, and he wanted outcross bloodlines. Through the years, he has continued to buy Aberfeldy bulls when he needed them because they worked so well for him.

Several of the bulls Haupt has used were owned jointly with his brother-in-law, Joe F. Bennett of Coolidge, Texas, another long-time Shorthorn breeder. Together they purchased Aberfeldy Red Gauntlet, a bull which established the present record of 4.08 pounds gain per day for the Shorthorn breed. Bennett & Haupt also have another bull coming from Canada now, Aberfeldy Scoutmaster, a grandson of the famous Australian bull, Mandelone Royal Ambassador.

Haupt says, "Joe and I never hesitate to line breed a little bit, and it doesn't make much difference which of our bulls we use, the calves always look just alike."

Roy Tackel: Pinzgauers Selected Because They're Most Efficient

Bridgeport, Texas — Roy Tackel is a relatively new, but highly enthusiastic Pinzgauer breeder.

Tackel started his Pinzgauer breeding program about two years ago, and has yet to get his first three-quarter Pinzgauer, but he has two half-blood heifers bred to calve three-quarter bloods in March and April.

"When I decided to get into the registered cattle business, I was looking for the most efficient animal I could find, and that included fertility, milking ability, adaptability to various climatic conditions, ability to deliver a calf every 11 or 12 months, and especially the ability to maintain good flesh on forage without needing a lot of expensive feed," Tackel said.

"I believe I found all of those things in Pinzgauers — I haven't been disappointed in any way so far," he added.

Tackel and his son, Chris, artificially inseminate their cattle and started with good quality Hereford and crossbred foundation cows. They plan to phase the foundation cows out and replace them with percentage Pinzgauers until they reach the purebred stage.

Because they started from scratch with only cost of semen being their only investment beyond what they would have had in commercial cattle, the Tackels aren't strapped with expensive low percentage cattle, so a strict culling program is possible.

"We take any animal, male or female, that doesn't measure up to the quality we demand, to the Fort Worth Stock Yards and sell them," Tackel said. Recently Tackel took some half-blood steers to Fort Worth and they sold about $2.00 cwt. higher than other steers that day.

Tackel believes Pinzgauers have many worthwhile genetic contributions to make to American beef production, but he thinks the most significant contribution will be the added milking ability, thus heavier weaning calves, will be the most important.

Tackel keeps detailed records on his cattle, and has already weaned heifer calves weighing 610 pounds at 205 days actual weaning.

Tackel says he believes one of the strongest things working for the Pinzgauer breed of cattle in the U.S. is the type of people in the national association. "We have a group of people who are interested in the breed, not greed," Tackel said.
